Today's Readings

First Reading — There will come to the temple the LORD whom you seek. (Malachi 3:1-4)

Psalm — Who is this king of glory? It is the Lord! (Psalm 24)

Second Reading — Jesus had to become like his brothers and sisters in every way to help the descendants of Abraham. (Hebrews 2:14-18)

Gospel — The just and pious Simeon proclaims the infant Jesus to be a revealing light to the Gentiles, the glory of the people Israel. (Luke 2:22-40 [22-32])

The Presentation of the Lord

Today's feast is both magnificent and mysterious: magnificent because the very first contemporaries of Jesus begin to recognize him as Christ, the anointed Savior of the world; mysterious, because this King is still a child, an obscure boy obedient to his earthly parents.

The prophet Malachi – living and dying before the coming of Christ – points toward the arrival of the Messiah and encourages God's people to prepare themselves by living generous, holy lives.

The Letter to the Hebrews – written after Jesus' ministry, death, and resurrection – renews the prophetic call to holiness, reminding us that the Lord will always help us: "Because he himself was tested through what he suffered, he is able to help those who are being tested." The Gospel reading overflows with examples of joyful men and women living God's call to holiness. Mary, Joseph, Simeon, and Anna show us, in their own ways, how to love Christ.

CHILD SAFETY

Fr. Bill requests that parents accompany their small children when the children go to the restroom. They pass through the South Foyer, which is often unoccupied by parishioners. A few months ago, someone came in from the street during mass and stole the poor box located in that foyer. Let us all be mindful of our young children and do our best to protect them.
